

[Meta] The Prom

It's time for a classy event before everyone goes off to college. Who will get the final say in choosing the prom king and queen?

Nine students have submitted puzzles in their application for prom royalty: a Band Geek, a Class Clown, a Foreign Exchange Student, a Goth, a Jock, a Nerd, a Rebel, a Slacker, and a Theatre Kid.

Each of the students was asked to pick their favorite high school class. The list of answers received is: Art History, Biology, Calculus, Chemistry, Economics, French, History, Music Theory, and Shakespeare.

All of the students will continue their education next year. At least one student will attend each of the following schools: Honeycutt Community College, Jenni Nevels Academy, Kentworth University, Leif Iverson Institute of Technology, Sixton State, and The Leventhal School of Music. More of the students will attend Leif Iverson Institute of Technology than Kentworth University, which will get more of the students than any of the other four schools.

The Class Clown has the fourth-highest GPA. No two students have the same GPA.

The Foreign Exchange Student, the Goth, and the Theatre Kid all have better GPAs than the Nerd, who has a better GPA than the Band Geek, the Jock, the Rebel, and the Slacker.

The student whose favorite class is Chemistry has a higher GPA than the Theatre Kid, who has a higher GPA than the student whose favorite class is Economics, who has a higher GPA than the Slacker, who has a higher GPA than the student who will attend Sixton State, who has a higher GPA than the student whose favorite class is Music Theory, who has a higher GPA than the Rebel.

The student whose favorite class is Music Theory will attend The Leventhal School of Music.

The student whose favorite class is Biology, the student whose favorite class is Calculus, the Band Geek, the Nerd, the Slacker, and the student with the lowest GPA will all attend different schools.

One school will get both the Class Clown and the student whose favorite class is French. Another school will get both the Goth and the student whose favorite class is Art History.

The students who chose Calculus, Chemistry, and History as their favorite classes were the Foreign Exchange Student, the Jock, and the Nerd, in some order.

The Goth and the students going to Kentworth University all have lower GPAs than the Foreign Exchange Student, but higher GPAs than the student whose favorite class is Art History and the Slacker.

The student who will attend Honeycutt Community College has a better GPA than the student whose favorite class is Shakespeare, but a worse GPA than both the Theatre Kid and the student whose favorite class is Biology.
